1. Return window

Customers may return any item within 45 days of the delivery date. The delivery date is the carrier-confirmed date recorded in ParcelPoint.

This 45-day window has been running since 2025-11-03 as a holiday exception. As of the effective date above, it is permanent and applies to every order year-round, not just holiday-season deliveries. It applies the same way across every product category, from small accessories up through desks and bundles; there is no shorter window for opened accessories and no longer window for large furniture.

2. Condition and restocking

Unused items returned in their original packaging receive a full refund. Opened, non-defective returns carry a 10% restocking fee, deducted from the refund total.

The restocking fee is waived on B2B orders of 10 or more units, per the 2025-06-02 restocking update, which remains in force and is unchanged by this version.

3. Defective items

Defective items are refunded or replaced at no charge, and Larkstead covers return shipping. Defect claims should reference the order number and, where known, the production lot.

4. Starting a return

Return requests start by email to support@larkstead.example with the order number. A support agent confirms the delivery date on file and sends instructions for getting the item to the warehouse.

5. Refund timing

Refunds go to the original payment method within 5 business days of warehouse receipt. Refunds do not post to store credit or to a different card than the one used for the original purchase.

Change note

Version 1, effective 2024-01-15, set a 30-day window. The window moved to 45 days on 2025-11-03 under an internal holiday exception. This version makes 45 days permanent policy. No other terms changed from v1.
